The current form of money is stripped from circulation and dismissed in the case of demonetization. New forms of notes and coins are replaced by the old ones. The Indian Government had demonetized banknotes on two prior occasions – once in 1946 and in 1978, in both cases the goal was to combat with tax evasion via black money held outside the formal economic system.

The need of demonetization is essential for preventing corruption and controlling inflation. Poor people expressed their regret on it due to the suffering faced by them. Mr. Hause said that digital transitions of money may increase in future due to demonetization, it may help in reducing the risk of robbery, misplacing of money. He concluded that demonetization was a compulsory step to tackle the problem of black money, terrorism and corruptions activity that prevalent among the people.

After this, Mr. M. L. Bhusare (Department of Marathi) won the hearts of the students by reading his poems. Rajput [ Department of Economic, SSVPS College, Dondaicha] lectured on "Mineral Conservation and Economics" On dated 26/12/16, at evening, He advised that he was also a volunteer and volunteers should acquire the knowledge from various sources. He also suggested to NSS volunteers to attained university level workshop on mineral conservation, so they can create awareness in society about such burning issues. He explained that the environmental issues are increasing day by day, and demand for minerals is increasing.

Prof. Rajput expounds that, the minerals are required in large amount to our body such as calcium, phosphorus, magnesium, sodium, potassium, chloride and sulfur, but some mineral required in small amounts include iron, manganese, copper, iodine, zinc, cobalt, fluoride and selenium. Mineral resources need to be conserved because they are limited. It takes billions of years for them to be produce in nature. Continued extraction of ores leads to increasing costs of extraction and a decrease in quality as well as quantity. He explains the importance of minerals to human body such as our body uses minerals for many different activities, including keeping your bones, muscles, heart, and brain working properly. Minerals are also important for production of enzymes and hormones.

He also told that, over use of mineral not only affects the living organisms but also natural environment of earth. Mineral consumption may increase level of water from earth surface and create alarming situation us in future. Mineral conservation help protect flora and fauna of forest and natural ecosystem; it's interaction within their ecosystems. Assistant program officer Mr. D. P. Sapkale was thanks to Prof. V. P. In his speech, he gave the slogan of "Jati Todo - Bharat Jodo". Prof. Hande gave an example of this important thought by remembering the work of Bharat Ratna Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar., 125th Birth Anniversary of the Dr. Bhimrao Ambedkar was celebrated at the UN headquarters by United Nations for the first time on 13th April 2015, a day before his date of birth, with an international seminar on 'Combating Inequalities to achieve Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Indian mission says that the "National Icon" remains an inspiration for millions of Indians and proponents of equality and social justice across the globe.

Prof. Hande said that this is the most recent example of India's hypersensitivity on discussing the caste issue at UN forum. The speaker talks about the increasing valleys between people due to the hidden caste discrimination. The caste discrimination is the biggest hindrance between two type of group in non-cooperation to one another. The hidden feeling of non-cooperation is the greatest loss as per human resource development is concerned.

Prof. M.B. Hande summarized the issue of caste by giving the simple message to students and society, when 90 marriages in India are happens in form of inter-caste out of 100 marriages, then this caste issue will give relief to Indian society. Through the eradication of the caste, our country will become the superpower and NSS volunteers appealed for their contribution and serve the country.
